Date: October 20, 2022

Subject: Mechel PAO – Broker-to-Broker Settlement
Option Symbol: MTL

Effective March 16, 2022, the National Securities Clearing Corporation (“NSCC”) no longer accepted MTL exercise and assignment activity for settlement. As a result, all exercise and assignment activity for MTL options beginning March 16, 2022, was subject to broker-to-broker settlement, as stated in OCC Information Memos #50186, #50211, #50789, and #51196. On July 22, 2022, the Office of Foreign Assets Control (“OFAC”) of the U.S. Department of the Treasury published Russia-related General License 45, which permitted, through 12:01 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time on October 20, 2022, certain transactions that are ordinarily incident and necessary to the wind down of financial contracts or other agreements that were entered into on or before June 6, 2022, and involved or were linked to debt or equity securities issued by an entity in the Russian Federation. Russia-related General License 45 expired at 12:01 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time on October 20, 2022.

OCC discussed the implications of the expiration of General License 45 with OFAC. In connection with those discussions and OCC’s request that OFAC consider an extension, OFAC issued License No. RUSSIA-EO14024-2022-983909-1 (“License”) late on October 19, 2022. The License authorizes the purchase of equities issued by an entity in the Russian Federation where that purchase would otherwise be prohibited by section (1)(a)(i) of Executive Order 14071 and is ordinarily incident and necessary to the wind down of covered contracts. Consequently, settlement of MTL option exercises and assignments in MTL shares is permissible while the License is in effect. This License expires on the earlier of the completion of the authorized transactions or on January 31, 2023.

As permitted by the License, MTL options will continue to settle on a broker-to-broker basis. OCC will provide a copy of the License to each Clearing Member with existing positions in MTL options.

Clearing Members that have MTL exercise and assignment obligations are reminded to mark such obligations as settled on OCC’s broker-to-broker screen once such obligations have settled.
