Subject: Yandex N.V – Broker-to-Broker Settlement
Option Symbol: YNDX

Effective March 16, 2022, the National Securities Clearing Corporation (“NSCC”) no longer accepted YNDX exercise and assignment activity for settlement. As a result, all exercise and assignment activity for YNDX options beginning March 16, 2022, was subject to broker-to-broker settlement, as stated in OCC Information Memos #50187, #50209, #50786, #51192, #51214, #51873, and #52027. On July 22, 2022, the Office of Foreign Assets Control (“OFAC”) of the U.S. Department of the Treasury published Russia-related General License 45, which permitted, through 12:01 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time on October 20, 2022, certain transactions that were ordinarily incident and necessary to the wind down of financial contracts or other agreements that were entered into on or before June 6, 2022, and involved or were linked to debt or equity securities issued by an entity in the Russian Federation. Russia-related General License 45 expired at 12:01 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time on October 20, 2022.

OCC discussed the implications of the expiration of General License 45 with OFAC. In connection with those discussions and OCC’s request that OFAC consider an extension, OFAC issued License No. RUSSIA-EO14024-2022-983909-1 (“Initial License”) late on October 19, 2022. The License authorized the purchase of equities issued by an entity in the Russian Federation where that purchase would otherwise be prohibited by section (1)(a)(i) of Executive Order 14071 and is ordinarily incident and necessary to the wind down of covered contracts. Consequently, settlement of YNDX option exercises and assignments in YNDX shares was permissible while the Initial License was in effect. The Initial License expired on the earlier of the completion of the authorized transactions or on January 31, 2023. In advance of the expiration date, OCC requested an extension of the Initial License, and as a result, OFAC issued License No. RUSSIA-EO14024-2022-983909-2 (“Extended License”), which expired on February 28, 2023. In advance of the expiration date for the Extended License, OFAC issued License No. RUSSIA-EO14024-2022-983909-3 (“Further Extended License”), providing a further extension that will expire on April 30, 2023.

In advance of the expiration date for the Further Extended License, OFAC issued License No. RUSSIA-EO EO14024-2022-983909-4 (“License”) which amends the Further Extended License to expire on January 31, 2024. The License authorizes (1) the purchase by U.S. persons of debt or equity issued by an entity in the Russian Federation where that purchase is ordinarily incident and necessary to the wind down of covered contracts; and (2) the facilitating, clearing, and settling of a purchase by U.S. persons of debt or equity issued by an entity in the Russian Federation, where that purchase is ordinarily incident and necessary to the wind down of covered contracts, including the settlement of existing positions in options contracts covering securities having the ticker symbol YNDX.

As permitted by the License, YNDX options will continue to settle on a broker-to-broker basis. OCC will provide a copy of the License to each Clearing Member with outstanding settlement obligations or existing positions in YNDX options.

Clearing Members that have YNDX exercise and assignment obligations are reminded to mark such obligations as settled on OCC's broker-to-broker screen once such obligations have settled.
