Date: June 12, 2023

Subject: Holiday Processing – June 19, 2023

Contracts currently exist with expiration dates falling on future Juneteenth holidays. The expiration dates for such contracts will remain unchanged, but expiration processing for these options will occur the business date prior to the holiday. Consequently, in 2023, expiration processing for such options will occur on Friday, June 16, 2023. OCC will produce all customary output on Friday, June 16, 2023 and, pursuant to its By-Laws and Rules, intends to use the closing price from that date (i.e., the trading day immediately preceding the expiration date) for expiration processing. In 2024, expiration processing for such options will occur on Tuesday, June 18, 2024. OCC will produce all customary output on Tuesday, June 18, 2024 and, pursuant to its By-Laws and Rules, intends to use the closing price from that date (i.e., the trading day immediately preceding the expiration date) for expiration processing.

CME will be open for trading for certain products on Monday, June 19, 2023. All trades will be processed with a trade date of June 20, 2023. Since June 19, 2023 is an OCC holiday and a U.S. bank holiday, OCC will process a holiday margin increase on accounts holding CME positions on Friday, June 16, 2023. To cover potential market moves for those products open for trading, the holiday margin call will result in an increase in collateral requirements in accounts with open positions on these exchanges equal to 10% of the risk charges for applicable products. For segregated futures accounts, the margin call is the amount by which (i) the Daily Net Margin requirement plus 10% of the sum of expected shortfall and stress test risk for applicable products exceeds (ii) the SPAN requirement.

Please note that this increase is not reflected on the Account Summary By CMO Report or the Cash Settlement Breakdown Report. Firms drafted as a result of the holiday margin increase will be notified Friday morning. Clearing Members are responsible for requesting cash back via ENCORE after depositing alternative forms of collateral.
